COMMITTEE TALK

Is Still the Principal Diversion of the People at Washington.

SOME GEORGIANS TAKEN CARE OF.

Several Who Are Well Known Get Fat Places.

SPEAKER CRISP AT HIS HOTEL.

He Didn't Get to the House, but Some of the Members Find Him-Good Stories from the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, December 15 .- [Special.]-Speaker Crisp remained in his room at the Metropolitan all today considering the ques-tion of committees. A few members who had not had a hearing straggled in to tell the committee places they would like to have. Of course there are a half dozen committees all would like to serve upon, and naturally some must be disappointed. The committee on rules is the first to be appointed. That will be Burrows will be the republican members. The two democrats, besides the speaker, have not been decided upon, but it is thought probable that McMillin and Springer will be chosen. They are looked upon as the two best posted men on parliamentary rules in the party.

He May Not Stop.

Speaker Crisp will leave for home the early Speaker Crisp will leave for home the early part of next week. The chances are that he will go directly home without stopping over anywhere. He thought of accepting the invitation to stop over a short while in Atlanta, but on account of the recent afflictions in his family, he feels that he would prefer not to prefers under the circumstances to go directly home and remain quietly there in the bosom of his family until it is necessary for him to return to Washington.

The Americus Gavel.

eaker Crisp today received a beautiful gavel from his constituents in Americus. It was of Georgia oak, mounted in gold taken from the mines of Georgia. It bears the in-Crisp, speaker of the house, fifty-second congress, by his constituents of Americus, Ga."
Then around the handle, on a gold band, is engraved, "Georgia oak." It is too handsome for permanent use, but will be initiated, then given a prominent position in the speaker's Kyle's Bunco Game.

Senator Kyle, of South Dakota, the man who calls himself an "indecrat," has been trying to work a bunco game on the senate. He came here a week ago and took a seat on the democratic side. Then he went to Senator Gorman and asked to have the democratic steering committee assign him on committees. Naturally the democrats believed, from his request, that he was going to act with them and they placed him on the democratic committee lists. Today they discovered that the new senator had made a similar request of the republican senators and they had likewise assigned him. The matter soon became public and both sides were amazed that the "indecrat" should attempt such a bunco game upon them. As a result Mr. Kyle will get a place on the tail end of some senate committee that

The Georgia Patronage.

The Georgia patronage under the officers of the house was distributed today. The new members of the delegation acted conjointly and put Mr. W. S. Copeland, the alliance lecturer, into an eleven-hundred-dollar place under the doorkeeper; Mr. Holmes, of Meri-wether, into another; Lucien Davidson, of Atlanta, as a page, and Mr. Williams, of Habersham, as an elevator conductor at Mr. Blount secured a good place under the doorkeeper for one of his constituents. There is another page's place going to the delegation which will be filled in a few days.

Mr. Mills has been quite ill for several days with a very severe cold. This morning he had high fever and his physicians announce him threatened with pneumonia. No one but his immediate family has been allowed in the room today and his condition has been con sidered serious. Tonight, however, he is pronounced somewhat better and his physicians hope he will escape an attack of pneumonia. The illness of Mr. Mills, Dr. Sowers said, was due to the excessive exposure to which the members subjected themselves during about a dozen members who had caught bad

The larger part of the bills introduced in the enate during the sessions of the last three days are copies of measures that were before first congress at its expiration in stages short of final passage by both houses.

Among the new bills presented were the following:

By Mr. Cullom—Providing for the adoption and use of a uniform standard automatic car coupler and regulating the operation and control of freight trains used in interstate com-

In reference to this bill Mr. Cullom stated that the subject had been before the interstate commerce commission two or three sessions, and that that commission, after taking a great deal of testimony, had been unable to come to a conclusion as to the kind of bill that ought to be passed. The bill provided means to find out the best device for the security of life and limb, and hoped that the interstate commerce commission would soon be able to report a satisfactory measure.

Another was by Mr. Pettigrew to furnish rations to the Grand Army of the Republic at rations to the Grand Army or the Republic at its next annual convention in Washington. It provides an appropriation of half a million dol-lars for this purpose.

Senate Committees.

The democratic caucus committee was in session from adjournment of the senate until late in the afternoon endeavoring to perfect list of committee assignments, but was unable to complete its work and will resume it again tomorrow morning.

It is said on the authority of a member of the democratic caucus that in the assignments, Kyle and Irby will be considered as democrats and treated as such, while Peffer will be left with places given him by the republicans.

Senator Irby, of South Carolina. nator Peffer, of Kansas, came out in long interview yesterday on the demands of people's party, in which he says that he, ath Dakota, and Irby of South olina, are alone in the senate for these de mands, and that they will flock together. The interview places Senator Irby in a ather queer attitude, and he denies emphatically that he is in any way con nected with or in sympathy with a third party. He says he was elected as a emocrat, is a democrat and always will be

By the way, Senator Irby has been well received in the senate, and no new man has made more friends. The old democratic senators are charmed with his delightful manners, and are unanimous in announcing him a young man of much ability, who will make a name in the senate.

Private John Allen. Private John Allen, of Mississippi, the wit of the house, is playing in a new role this year. The private turned up the other day with a full set of flowing whiskers that cover his face so completely that even his best friends could not recognize him unless he removed his hat and exhibited that polished brow which extends from his eyes over to his collar

Mr. Allen was talking tonight about the failure of his friends to recognize him and the fun he had had at their expense.
"Senator Kenna, of West Virginia," said he, "has always pretended to be my friend, but yesterday I was introduced to him by Senator Walthall as Mr. Higginbottom, of Missis

'Happy to meet you, sir. You succeeded

"'Mr. Allen, said Walthall.
"'Yes, yes, I remember now, I am delighted to meet you, said Kenna.
"Then I removed my hat and Kenna actually wanted to whip me."

Allen and Hatch. Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, called Mr. Allen up the other day and told him he wanted to introduce him to the attorney general of his state, the brightest young man in the country. The usual formalities were gone through with, when "the bright young attorney general"

"Mr. Allen, what paper are you on?" "The Tupels Journal," replied Allen, at first amazed, but then in for some fun. "Is that published in New York?"

"Oh, yes," replied Allen, and then he sauntered off to think over what it took to consti-tute a "bright young attorney general."

Why It Was So.

The other day Mr. Allen was sitting in the louse barber shop when one of the negro barers said to him: "It does seem queer to me, sah, dat all de republicans wanted Mr. Mills elected speaker.

republicans wanted Mr. Mills elected speaker. What you reckon dey was all dat way fer?"
"Dat's simple enuf," chimed in another African artist before Mr. Allen could reply. "Hasn't you ebber seen a ball game? Wall, dere is some pitchers dat de other team bats better than they do others. Dey catch onto de curves. Wall, dat's de way wid Mr. Mills. De republicans have done caught onto his curves, an' dey wanted him in de box."

HELD UP AND ROBBED.

A Mail Coach Held Up By Armed Men

A Mail Coach Held Up By Armed Men and Rifled.

CHICAGO, Ill., December 15.—Jesse James's exploits were outdone tonight in Chicago. On one of the leading thoroughtares of Chicago five daring highwaymen suddenly surrounded one of Uncle Sam's biggest mail wagons and at revolver point forced the postal employes to throw out several sacks. The bulky government vehicle was then sent flying on its journey, the occupants being threatened with instant death if they made an outcry or stopped. So complete was the surprise effected by the bandits that the mail drivers failed to utilize the services of a large bulldog which was beside them on their seat. Near midnight the stolen mail sacks, slit open and rifled of their contents, were found on Superior street, in the north division of the city, fully three miles from the scene of the robbery. At that hour every available man of the city detective force and the postoffice inspector's staff were straining every nerve to obtain a clue to the identity of the highwaymen or their whereabouts. The wagon was on its way to the main postoffice with mail from the stockyards and southwest stations. It was in charge of John Creighton.

The driver, whipping up his horses, drove as rapidly as possible to the main postoffice where he reported the affair. An inventory was then made of the contents of the wagon and it was found that two registered mail pouches and Rifled. that two registered mail pouches from the stockyard's station, that from the southern station, and Blue Island avenue station, were missing. Meeting of the Silver Committee. WASHINGTON, December 15.—The following call for a meeting of the national executive silver committee was issued today: silver committee was issued today:

A meeting of the national executive silver committee will be held at the room of the committee, No. 1202 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., at 12 o'clock, noon, Tuesday, January 5, 1892. In view of the probable action of congress at its present session on the silver question, the meeting of the committee will be an important one. It is believed the disposition of a majority in both houses of congress is favorable to a full remonetization of silver. On the other hand opposition to the present law has rapidly to a full remonetization of silver. On the other hand opposition to the present law has rapidly developed in the east, while antagonism to free coinage of silver has grown more and more demonstrative.

EAST TENNESSEE ELECTION TODAY.

There Will Be No Delay-The Bankers Committee Seems to Be Without Power.

NEW YORK, December 15 .- [Special.]-There is music in the air of the Richmond Terminal Company, and Wall street is alert and marking time to the Brice-Thomas quick-The Terminal directors had a long and strictly secret session yesterday afternoon. It was after dark when they adjourned. dozen newspaper reporters were waiting when the solons disin waiting when the solons dis-banded, but the boys got no news. Every director told the same story, to-wit; "We transacted only routine business and adjourned till tomorrow noon."

This the news gatherers interpreted as being mysteriously important and consequently wer on hand at Terminal headquarters again a noon today to await information.

Today's Meeting. The directors met promptly and remained in session over two hours. When they adjourned it was evident that the business trans acted was more than "routine." It soon be came known that the question of the meeting which marred the harmony was as to the elec tion of directors and officers of the East Ten nessee, Virginia and Georgia tomorrow Some members of the Terminal board favored a postponement of that election until the advisory committee which was re-cently appointed should make its report and recommendations for the "permanent" adjustment of the Terminal's affairs. To such postponement the Brice-Thomas party was unalterably opposed and on forcing the question to a vote carried their point.

A Brice-Thomas Victory This was all of public interest that was done at the meeting but Wall street voted it an impor tant point gained by the Brice-Thomas contin gent. Later developments were much more in-teresting and significant. There was a meeting of Terminal stockholders held at the Centra Trust Company after 3 o'clock, at which over two hundred and forty thousand shares of Terminal stock were represented. Of this meeting Fred T. Olcott, president of the Central Trust Company, was chairman. Mr. Olcott announced to the meeting that he had resigned from the "advisory committee" lately authorized to examine into the Terminal's affairs, and gave as his reasons for so doing that he could not approve any such stringent measures for the relief of the Terminal c pany as a majority of the committee was dis-

Radical Methods Not Necessery. He further stated that so far as he had acquainted himself with the affairs of the Terminal company he could not see that any radical methods were necessary. He believed the company and the railroad properties it controlled were all perfectly solvent, and could not approve any plan that contemplated any assessment on the Terminal stock, or scaling of interest or principal of Terminal bonds. These views from Mr. Olcott were enthusiastically received by the Terminal stockholders present, and resulted in his selection then and there as their

A resolution was unanimously adopted by the meeting appointing a stockholders' com mittee of five to be named by Mr. Olcott he himself to be chairman of that committee who should devise means for handling the floating debts of the subordinate committees of the Terminal system and providing any financial aid that the Terminal company itself might need.

What Will Be the Result.

Mr. Olcott has not yet named the stockhold ers to be associated with him on this committee. It is said that the Terminal preferred stockholders are in thorough sympathy with the Olcott committee, and if that be so it strengthens that programme just 50,000 shares in a general vote of the Terminal stockholders.

In the light of all this new development it would seem that the "advisory committee," heretofore appointed, will be no longer neces sary to the situation. There are innumerable suggestions as to the further consequences of today's doings, but nothing beyond what I have reported is assured. In some quarters it said that a sweeping change in the Terminal management will soon be made, including even the retirement of President Inman. On the other hand, it is reported that Mr. Inmar will continue to be president, but several of the present directors, including the Calhoun brothers, will be displaced.

Mr. Inman is imperturable in spite of the storm. He only says: "The president of the Terminal company is elected by the stockholders and whenever they wish my resigna-

In my opinion neither General Thomas nor Mr. Brice has any desire to see Mr. Inman supplanted by anybody else. M. J. V.

A few days ago a white friend jokingly remarked to Leatherwood that the dog that bit him had gone mad, and he would surely go mad also. Thinking the dog was really ma he became exceedingly gloomy, and told his family he was going to die from hydrophobia. Both drew their revolers and fired at each other until the chambers of the weapons were empty. Abernathy fell, having received wounds in the head and face. One bullet entered the forhead, and, passing around the skull, made its exit at the back of the head. Grimsley was struck only once, the ball pass-ing through the thigh.

It may be imagined how great the sensation, this street duel between a prominent Metho-dist preacher and a well-known citizen, created. Grimsley was under a five-hundreddollar bond to keep the peace toward Aber-

Last Friday, it will be remembered, Grims ley, who had secreted himself in his own house, having suspected the preacher, detected the latter in the act of kissing Mrs. Grimsley and shot him. Abernathy threw up his hands in front of his face and those received most of the load of bird shot fired at him at close range. A good many shot, how-ever, struck Abernathy's face.

The gravest charges are made against Abernathy by the injured husband. It has been reported that Grimsley has deserted his wife, who is an attractive woman of twenty-five, but this is untrue. Both the preacher and Grimsley were arrested yesterday. The injuries of neither are considered dangerous, though Abernathy's are the worst. The church will now take up the matter. Abernathy, after the first shooting, tendered his resignation as a preacher Abernathy is a married man.

Berlin.

Berlin, December 15.—A case similar to the recent attempt on the life of Russell Sage in New York, occurred in this city today. The imitator of Sage's assailant had apparently followed closely the accounts published here of the Sage affair, as his plan of operation was exactly the same as that of the New York dynamiter, although fortunately at the critical moment he lost his nerve and ran when his intended victim shouted for help. He was captured, however, and in his pockets were found packages of gunpowder and of some white powder, the nature of which is not yet determined.

The McCarthyites then held their meeting in peace. John Dillon was present, having come as one of the speakers. He caught a stone in his face and suffered an ugly gash. WILL IT DISBAND?

The Treachery of Chairman Reemelin to Governor Campbell

MAY DISBAND THE DUCKWORTH CLUB.

Witnesses Ready to Swear That Reemelin Paid Them

TO WORK FOR M'KINLEY'S ELECTION.

Some Unwritten History in the Ohio Campaign - Ohio's Big Demo-cratic Club.

CINCINNATI, O., December 13.-[Special.]-A well-founded rumor is current today that the Duckworth Club, the largest and most influential political organization in the demo cratic part of Ohio, is about to disband on account of internal dissensions, growing out of the warfare against Governor Campbeil; fired, or the matter will be taken to court in the is insolvent and that it will be to the best interests of the stockholders to have the organzation wined out of existence.

This is the result of the treachery of Bernard, Reemelin and the gang to Gov-ernor Campbell. When Reemelin was elected chairman of the democratic county executive committee he gave every pledge of his word of honor to support Campbell. After the election came charges that Reemelin had hired and paid men to vote for McKinley. The charges were formally preferred against Reemelin by Deputy Auditor John Brady, and now comes a little unwritten history showing what a hold the Bernard gang and now comes a little thawiten instry showing what a hold the Bernard gang had on the club.

A meeting of the directors of the club was called for last Wednesday night to hear the charges against Reemelin. Brady was present with witnesses whom Reemelin had paid to work for Mr. McKinley. Paid to Work for McKinley.

There were five or six witnesses and all were ready to testify that Reemelin paid them to work for McKinley. When all was ready it was discovered that there was not a quorum of the board of directors present. Brady then asked when the case could be heard and the directors told him they did not know, but said they would notify him in time. Brady left the clubhouse and five minutes later five of the directors signed a call for a meeting Friday night. Friday moraing Frank Burns, one of Bernard's henchmen, called at the auditor's office for Brady and learned that he was sick in bed with la grippe. Then came a hustle for a meeting of the directors that night.

Burns's Dirty Work.

Burns's Dirty Work.

It was after 9 o'clock when a quorum was secured. Brady was not present, and when Director McCabe asked where he was Burns intimated that Brady desired to drop the charges. Burns then moved that the matter of the charges against President Reemelin be laid on the table without further consideration, and the motion was carried, McCabé voting "aye" under the impression that Brady intended to drop the charges.

The next day when Brady heard what was done he was angry and so was McCabe, who claims that things were misrepresented to him. Brady then demanded another meeting of the directors, and the meeting is set for next Friday night. Brady will then demand that the motion laying his charges on the table be reconsidered and that the charges be heard.

Plenty of Testimony to Convict.

Plenty of Testimony to Convict.

He has plenty of testimony to convict Reemelin, and he and some of the other members of the club say they are bound to have Reemelin fired. If bound to have Reemelin fired. If there is any monkeying next Friday night the stockholders of the club will be called together and a demand made of them to depose the present board of directors. If this fails. then the matter will be taken into this fails, then the matter will be taken into court and the club will be disbanded as an insolvent corporation. Brady has in his possession a petition signed by more than one hundred members of the club for this purpose and unless Reemelin is deposed as presidely will surely be dissolved.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., December 15.—In the convention of the American Federation of Labor today Delegate Williams, of Pittsburg, made a motion that the convention grant $3,000 to enable the Pittsburg Typographical Union to take the recent conspiracy cases to the supreme court of Pennsylvania, and, if necessary, to the United States supreme court. This gave rise to a very animated discussion, led by Williams and Doherty, of Pittsburg, and engaged in by a dozen delegates. The argument was advanced that it was not a local fight in Pittsburg, but one of national importance. Delegate McNeil, of Boston, offered an amendment empowering the incoming executive board to spend $3,000 at its discretion in the Pittsburg case, The substitute was offered in the form of a resolution condemning the conspiracy laws of Pennsylvania and the recent decision of the Allegheny courts in the conspiracy cases. President Gompers opposed the action at this time, and, finally, after considerable excitement, the whole matter was referred to the ical Union $3,000 Creates Excitement.

Of Catarrh and You Have Permanent Cure

How Relief Was Gained in a Very Severe Case.

Diseases of long standing require long and persistent treatment to effect perfect cure, and this is particularly true of catarrh in the head. This is unquestionably a constitutional disease and therefore requires a Constitutional Remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Local applications, like snuff and other inhalants, can at best give only temporary relief, as they reach only the result and not the cause of the disease. The latter is found in the impure taint in the blood, which Hood's Sarsaparilla removes, and thus the benefit derived from this medicine is permanent.

The following statement frankly gives the facts in a very severe case of

The Plumbers Strike.

The National Plumbers Association and the ocal union of plumbers have come into conflict, and, as a result, the employes of the Savannah Plumbing Company have quit work. The local plumbers have a protective union of their own, which is connected with the Federation of Labor. It practically embraces all the desirable journeymen of the city. As with other labor organizations, a union shop can only employ members of the union. The other day the Savannah Plumbing Company, one of the largest concerns of this character in the south, engaged two plumbers from New York. They were members of the National Plumbers! Association and had cards showing that they were in tion, and had cards showing that they were in good standing. The other workmen of the company desired them to unite with their union, and approached them on the subject. The New York plumbers declined to do as requested. This left the company with but the two plumbers who were the cause of the trouble and a foreman to do the large amount of work en hand. This morning the strikers were paid off. They are confident that in a few days the men will either unite with them or be returned to their homes. The company though insists that it will not discompany, though, insists that it will not dis-charge the men. MANAGER SIMS.

He Will Succeed Dr. Murray as Western Union Manager,

DOCTOR HAVING RESIGNED,

The Reasons Which Prompted Him to Make That Step-The New Manager.

Dr. P. E. Murray sent in his resignation as manager of the Atlanta office of the Western Union Telegraph Company yesterday morn-

Mr. D. C. Sims, at present manager of the Mobile office, is to succeed Dr. Murray. The appointment has not been made, but it will be in a day or two.

Yesterday morning the doctor's formal resignation as manager was tendered to Superintendent Stephens. The matter occasioned a great deal of surprise, as none of Dr. Murray's friends had any intimation of his intentions.

But for some time he has been desirous of devoting his time, as much as possible, to his medical profession, and he found that the duties and responsibilities of the management of the office made that impossible.

It was this that prompted him to give up the position in which he has done such good service to take up his former position, that of night chief operator. This will give him time to devote to his profession and a position with the company which suits his plans much better than does that of manager.

This change will cause another general sifting. All of the officials who were advanced when Mr. Stephens was made district superintendent and Dr. Murray manager, will be placed in their original positions, with which they are, of course, well acquainted. Such an arrangement will not cause any disturbance of the smooth and easy working of the company's affairs in Atlanta.

Mr. Sims, who succeeds Dr. Murray, has been in the employ of the Western Union for fifteen or twenty years. For the past six years he has been the manager of the office at Mobile, and his work there recommends him

He is a gentleman about thirty-five years of age and is married.

Mr. Sims will move to Atlanta and take up his duties here in a short time. His long cor nection with the service makes him thoroughly acquainted with the work, and his popularity elsewhere will without any doubt prevail in Atlanta.

Dr. Murray's management of the office has given the greatest satisfaction, both to his superiors and to the public. He has, however, a large and substantial medical practice, and, as medicine is his profession, he decided in its

Rev. Henry R. Davies, a deacon, and Rev. Illiam E. Tarpley, an elder, were received to the conference from the Northern Methost thurch. Their reason for coming was at they felt that the northern church had a mission to the whites in Georgia, as the athern church was so well filling the field. hey are both strong in body, well balanced entally in their young manhood and will do dicient work. This has been the most spiritual most the conference in many years. The ching has been thoughtful and ag. A number of times under Bishop e, and particularly under Bishop tod, there have been many old-shouts of praise. Bishop Key very spiritual, and, had he been well, dhave preached of tener: the one sermon stery spiritual, and, had he been well, old have preached oftener; the one sermon lis was melting. Bishop Haygood swept offici, his sermons were strong, brave, wide take in their thought, and true to old-time take in their thought, and true to old-time take in their thought, and true to old-time thought. He knows and loves every man as brother, and can do what he will with the sachers; his touch is magic. He never appeared better than at the memorial service, an speaking of death. New Methodist Preachers in Atlanta.

New Methodist Preachers in Atlanta.

The appointments of the Methodist preachers for another year in Atlanta reveal few changes.

Rev. W. D. Anderson, D.D., who has so ably preached at First church, goes to take charge of the important church at LaGrange. His successor is Rev. J. B. Robins, one of the livest and brainiest young men in the state. He has won his spurs this year on the Dalton district, making a superb record as presiding elder in every department, particularly as a preacher. His people and preachers have become completely wedded to him, and are deeply hurt at his being taken from them. He has served many prominent charges in the conference, such as Elberton, Cartersville, Dalton. He is a graduate of Emory college, and is a hard student of philosophy and fresh thought. He keeps in the forefront of the thought of the day. He is an author, his book, "Christ and Our Country," being an optimistic reply to Dr. Strong's "Our Country." He is a very popular preacher, capturing his audiences wherever he goes. While fresh and live and thoughtful, it is in the line of the standard Bible theology. He is a valuable man and will do fine work. He is about forty years of wherever he goes. While fresh and live and thoughtful, it is in the line of the standard Bible theology. He is a valuable man and will do fine work. He is about forty years of age, having been a lawyer before entering the ministry. He was born in Putnam county.

Rev. W. T. Bell, who takes the place of Rev. M. L. Underwood at St. Paul's church, is a strong preacher of about forty. He is a deeply spiritual man, has had good appointments and is a tireless worker. He was born near Athens, and has been preaching for about twelve years. He, as also Rev. Mr. Robins, has a wife and several children. Rev. Mr. Underwood goes to Gainesville.

Rev. John M. White, who is so well known in Atlanta and who has won golden opinions in all his fields of labor, particularly Milledgeville, his last, will take charge of Edgewood church. It is needless to say that his preaching and his genial manner and fine work will make Edgewood very popular.

Rev. W. A. Parks takes charge of Hendrix mission, while Rev. William Dunbar goes to West Putnam.

mission, while West Putnam.

West Putnam.

The other preachers of the city are all so popular that their friends will rejoice to see that they have been returned.

The conference moved nearly or quite half of the preachers and it causes many very long moves to and fro, but this is necessary in economy to make all things suitable.

ATLANTA, GA., December 16, 1891.

The Democratic Programme. We were discussing yesterday, by the light of some observations made by The New York World, the proper legislative policy for the democrats in congress to pursue. Our able contemporary, it will be remembered, suggested that the manifestation of a pur-pose to repeal the McKinley acts and the Sherman silver law would be in the nature of a proposition to tear down, with no corresponding purpose to build up; a singular suggestion to make, unless we are to conclude that tariff reform is precisely what the republican party chooses to make itunless democratic tariff reform is always to begin where republican tariff builders leave

In 1887 and in the earlier part of 1888, a great many feather-headed editors were flying at THE CONSTITUTION and reading it out of the party because it advocated a judicious policy of tariff reform as opposed to the wild and formless propositions of some of the leaders. Believing in the principle of tariff reform, THE CONSTITU-TION thought that the policy ought to be pressed on conservative and prudent lines, and in connection with other and equally important issues. We have thought since that had the policy advocated by THE Constitution been adopted in 1888, the cause of tariff reform would now be much further advanced. In any event, there is one fact which democrats cannot afford to blink-namely, that defeat is a long step backward, and that success alone can invest a given policy with the power to work results. Out of the curious effort to make a question of policy the all-in-all of democracy came the defeat of 1888, and the formidable results of that defeat we have in the shape of the McKinley acts, the Sherman silver law, and the deluge of pensions.

These results are so oppressive and so threatening to the people that the democratic party cannot afford to take any more chances of defeat in 1892. Recent events appear to indicate that this is thoroughly understood by the democratic leaders who will have charge of affairs in the house. Just how far their understanding and appreciation go in this direction we are not prepared to say, but it is a matter that ought to appeal very strongly to the patriotism of the party. Defeat next year would be taken by the republicans to mean an endorsement, not only of the McKinley acts, but of the legislation shadowed forth by the force bill; in fact, it would be taken to mean a great many other things which the democrats cannot af ford to contemplate with equanimity.

Three propositions have been made in regard to the policy which the democrats in congress should pursue. The first has in view the framing and discussion of a general tariff bill; the second proposes to introduce a number of bills nibbling at the tariff in various directions; while the third proposes to move against the McKinley bill and the other republican legislation against which the people protested with such vehemence in 1890.

The objection to the first proposition is that the whole session would be wasted in fram ing a revision bill and discussing it with no sort of hope of making any headway whatever in the direction of tariff reform. The second proposition is reasonably attractive, but it has this objection—that any single measure of reduction which might go through congress would redound as much to the credit of the Harrison administration and the republican party as to the credit of the democrats. It is not good politics to play into the hands of your opponents and give them an opportunity to correct their mistakes. The third proposition strikes us as eminently simple and direct. It makes the acts of the billion dollar congress the issue, and it is an issue that the most ignorant voter can comprehend.

So far as tariff reform is concerned, there can be no hope for it until the democratic party has complete control of the government. Democratic success is more important than any single issue, and the policy of the party should be molded wholly by considerations of success. The first and best thing to do is to convince the country that mugwumpism, whether that term covers free trade or republican monometallism, is no longer a part of the democratic programme.

The Brand of Cain. Under the above heading Edward Wakefield discusses in an English review the bloodthirsty proclivities of the average

Mr. Wakefield is sensational and extravagant, but it is impossible to read his article and glance at our newspapers without admitting that he is not far wrong.

American.

Within the past week the murder of a whole family in Florida, and the killing of his wife by a Georgia husband because the woman refused to assassinate a neighbor of whom the husband was jealous, have shocked our readers, and within the same period nearly every state in the union has furnished something horrible to add to the criminal record.

A long red list of murders might easily be made up for every month in the year. We talk sorrowfully about the lax morals of certain European countries, but in crimes of violence we outnumber them 25 per cent, and each census shows that while their crim inals are decreasing, ours are increasing in

Our English reviewer does not strain the situation when he says that the brand of Cain is upon us. We are an intemperate. reckless people, with little regard for the rights or the lives of others. Even in our r states the law is frequently openly defied. Men wear their legal duties as lightly as they do their religion, and secret assassi nations, as well as murders, are beginning to crop out in business, politics and domestic life. Two of our presidents have been assassinated in less than a generation. Preach; ers and millionaires are targets for pistols and bombs. Husbands and wives murder each other. Sleeping families in lonely country houses are butchered. And then the ordinary homicides-they are too numerous to classify.

What is the remedy? Frankly, we do not know. Perhaps no speedy change for the better is to be expected. This young nation may have to wallow for generations in the slough of drunkenness, and glut its murderous thirst for blood. It will take time for Christianity and civilization to do their perfect work. Despite our boasting, the church and the law have gained scarcely more than a good foothold in this new country. Their calendar month; delivered to any address by car, rier in the city of Atlanta. Send in your name at influence and their results are still in the future. That they will finally triumph over evil we cannot doubt, but it is to be feared that for many a long year to come the brand of Cain will be only too common among us.

Plucky Newspaper Men.

The office of The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette narrowly escaped destruction in a big conflagration that raged around it early last Sunday morning.

It was a terrible fire, and the situation of the 150 men at work on the newspaper was perilous in the extreme, but not a man left his post. The crackling of the flames could be distinctly heard by the writers and printers, and the rooms were filled with heavy smoke most of the time.

Facing death, the compositors stood at their cases or sat at their machines setting copy as fast as it came in. The proof-readers went about their work as calmly as ever. Even the women-for there were women at work in the composing room-stuck to their tasks regardless of danger.

The editorial writers and reporters turned out copy and cracked their jokes as usual. The managing editor issued an order to get the paper out on time, and told his assistants to stick to their desks until they had to use the fire escapes. Down stairs the water rolled in and threatened to put out the furnace fire, but dams of ashes headed it off from the engine and presses.

From the roof to the cellar, editors, reporters, printers and other employes worked on in the smoke, sometimes turning aside to fight the flames that darted through the windows, and at last, half-suffocated and half-blind their work was done, and the paper went to press.

It was a haggard, flame-smitten crowd that crawled out of The Commercial Gazette building that Sunday morning, but the paper got out, and the building was saved by a scratch, as it were.

When it comes to endurance and fearless ness in the presence of death, give us the newspaper man all the time! Look at the three Chicago reporters who perished in a fire a few weeks ago. Look at MacGahon, the correspondent, who went through battles. sieges and marches only to die of spotted fever in Turkey. Look at Burnaby, writing like a Dumas and fighting like a Bayard, dying in the Soudan, and strangling the Arab whose spear had given him a mortal wound. Look at Cameron, killed by a bullet in Africa while writing a letter on the battlefield to a London paper.

When the earthquake a few years ago caused the newspaper buildings in Carolina and Georgia to rock to their foundations, the writers, printers and others remained at their posts. When cholera and yellow fever have scourged the land these midnight toilers died in harness rather than flee to a place of refuge.

"The paper must get out on time!" Nobody but a newspaper man understands the magic of that phrase. It is the unwritten law of the sanctum, the composing room and the cellar, and the man who ignores it is forever disgraced among his fellows. Is all this folly or heroism? We do not knowwe simply know that newspaper men will run greater risks and make greater sacrifices for their work than perhaps any other class of toilers.

The Policy of Common Sense From The New York Sun.

Captain Evan P. Howell, of Atlanta, who newspaper, THE CONSTITUTION, of that city, was one of the strongest supporters of Mr. Crisp for speaker, and who went to Washington to work for his candidate, has put into a few words the meaning of Mr. Crisp's success, and the policy of disaster upon which it reflects and the policy of victory of which "I cannot see how we can possibly hope for success if we follow the same leaders and the ex-clusive lines of policy we did in 1888. The demo-cratic party ought to be in power today. We blundered in the campaign of 1888 by making the fight on a single issue. We blundered by listening to a handful of i mugwumps on the so-called civil service. We lost the election, made it possible to pass a McKinley bill, and came very near having a force bill that would have cost this country an other revolution if it had passed. We also made other revolution in it had passed. We have the it possible for the republicans to pass extreme and unjust pension laws that will rob every citizen of this country for years. Now to repeat the same folly again, four years after, when we can't point to a single man or a single influence that will support that administrative policy in 1892 that did not support it 1888, would show the supremest foolishness I have known a party to be guilty of since the Charleston convention of 1860. I believe the election of Mills as speaker would have meant the endorsement of that plan of campaign, and that the election of Crisp means that we will go into the fight with every living issue that divides the democratic party from the republican party." That is the democratic case. The election of

Mr. Mills would have indicated that the democratic party had determined to stake everything upon a single issue, and that a hopeless one. The election of Mr. Crisp meant, as Captain Howell says, that the party will go into the fight next year for every living issue that divides democracy from republicanism. It meant also that the de mocracy will no longer sacrifice any of its principles or make fatal concessions for the support of

The policy of common sense has been preferred to rainbows and mirage. The democrats will try to win and not to lose.

The National Hotel Rumored to Have Been Purchased

BY THE RICHMOND AND DANVILLE

For a Depot and Headquarters for the Entire System-The Rumor Given General Credence.

One of the biggest deals in real estate which Atlanta has known for some time was reported to have been made yesterday. This was the purchase of the National hotel property on Peachtree street, running back to Broad and fronting on the railroad 210 feet.

The price said to have been paid was $300,the purchaser, the Richmond and Danville railroad.

That was the rumor current among real estate men yesterday, and it was given the

I did have a conversation with Mayor Nelma yesterday, in which I explained to him, very sat-isfactorily I think, the situation in West End, and I beg to say, in order to avoid an erroneous impression on the minds of the public, that since seeing Mayor Nelms I have not spoken to any rep resentative of THE CONSTITUTION, or any paper, about the matter.

At Mayor Nelms's suggestion we both decided to have nothing further to say through the papers to have nothing further to say through the papers, but since I am quoted as saying "we will put on more trains as soon as we can do so," and as this is not the purpose of the company, I think it proper to correct this statement.

In this connection allow me to say that I have endeavored to avoid any interview on the subject of the West End schedule. I take the position that we have no contract with West End. The records will show that we simply petitioned for the right to equip the company's lines with electricity. These rights were granted, and we were required to do the work under a bond within a specified time, with which we have complied.

The Atlanta Consolidated Street Rallway Company is in this position, and intends, without discriminating against any section, to do the best we can, taking everything into consideration.

Several conferences have been held. The committee represents the men on the Georgia Pacific and Air-Line divisions of the system and is headed by Mr. K. G. McLean, of Birmingham. Their demand was for an increase to 55 er cent of engineer's wages on freight engines, 3 per cent on passenger engines. For some time past Mr. J. A. As superintendent of the division Mr. Gabbett now assumes Mr. Dodson made a most euviable and happy reputation as a railroad man. On every point he exhibited an intelligent and accurate acquaintance with his work. In coming to his new charge he brings a large experience and a successful past career to help him out. The fact that he succeeded Colond G. R. Talcott when he took charge of Mr. Gabbett's new division is a big endorsement of itself.

Mr. Dodson's coming to Atlanta naturally causes inquiries as to Mr. Hammond, who succeeded Captain Ed Berkely as superintendent of the Atlanta and Charlotte division. For some time past Mr. Hammond has been considering two or three most flattering positions, and although he knows just what he is going to do, be has not yet made the fact public. His nost intimate friends say that the position he has about decided to accept is one of the most desirable in the southern railway rorld.

an investigation a few days ago. Then, too, it was decided that the uncertain period had been passed, and that each road could care well for itself. A separate management was determined upon, and on the 1st of next month the Columbus Southern will pull away from the Georgia Midland's control and will take charge of its own affairs. ON A LONG FISH,

And He May Have Used a Stay-Away

J. W. Chambers, a well-known Atlanta blacksmith, went fishing five weeks ago. And he is still gone. His friends and relatives in Atlanta are un-

Mr. Chambers has been a resident of At-

Five weeks ago Mr. Chambers informed his wite that he had quit working with Vaughn, a well-known smithy, with whom he had been connected for years. He supplemented the surprising declaration, however, by saying that he had made an engagement with Booth, the Peters street carriage builder, and that he would work there in the future. got a new trial by going to the supreme court, is an occupant of the historic "Hill cell." He is anxious to again go into court and stand his trial. He says he feels confident he will be acquitted next time. It is not likely his case will be tried before the first week in January.

Walter Ponder, who is indicted for cruelly assaulting his step daughter, little Zetta Clark talks more rationally than he did a few weeks ago. He seems sane enough. He says he has no fear of being convicted. His sister is working earnestly in his behalf.

PUT HIM IN JAIL.

Witness's Confession to Clear a Defendant

RESULTS IN TROUBLE FOR HIMSELF.

Happenings Yesterday in the Various Departments of the United States Building.

A United States witness got himself into peck of trouble yesterday.

And the laugh is on Colonel Bill Day, of Pickens county, who, in attempting to clear one defendant, may be instrumental in sending two to jail. Yesterday morning among a number of revenue cases that against Reuben F. Anderson, of Dawson county, was called. The charge was that of illicit distilling and the man pleaded "not guilty." The government put forth its evidence for the prosecution and then the defense, represented by Colonel Day, took a hand. The colonel placed on the stand a young, beardless boy, Stephen Hammontree, of Dawson, who declared that he was the owner and operator of the distillery, which Anderson was accused of running.

The boy's stay on the stand was amusing Every time Assistant Attorney Angier would ask him a question. Hammontree would contract his face, look at his feet, then up at the ceiling, out of the windows, and wind up the display with a yawn. Then the answer would come forth with a drawl.

The jury didn't seem to take much to the witness' statements, and hardly credited the proprietorship of a moonshining establishment to a boy, who gave his age as seventeen. As a result, a verdict of guilty was rendered, and Judge Newman sentenced Anderson to four months' imprisonment and a fine of $100.

Then Colonel Darnell stepped in. Hammontree was put in charge of a bailiff and the district attorney sent him to jail to await a preliminary trial for moonshining. Ander-son will be called as a witness against him and his confession also used.

Colonel Day couldn't understand it. He declared that Anderson was perfectly innocent and that the confession of the witness should not legally operate against himself.

Nevertheless, both Dawson county men are now keeping each other company in the county prison.

Wants Another Chance. Alexander Ash, of Gwinnett county, the man has ever sentenced to the penitentiary,

Two weeks ago he was given fifteen months' hard labor at the Columbus penitentiary, and a fine of $100, and yesterday his petition for a new trial was filed in the district court.

This will probably be done and the work taken up in April. At any rate, the elevator will be put up right away, and will be running before Christmas,

One of the biggest raids made by the United States officials in several months was reported to Colonel W. H. Chapman yesterday. The children of both parties to the contract were present and as the bride and groom took their place before the minister, and just as he was starting the ceremony, the children of the bride rushed across the floor and tenderly and lovingly caught their mother about the waist. A Seventeen-Year-Old Bride Mourns His

AND HER MOTHER THINKS HE'S SKIPPED.

His Name Is Nelson and He Is Said to Be an Architect-What Mrs. Nolan Has to Say About the Case.

Another missing husband sensation dereloped yesterday.

T. C. Nelson ten days ago left his pretty seventeen-year-old bride after only three days of happy married life, and has not been seen or heard of since.

Mrs. Nelson, nee Miss Nolan, is the daughter of Mrs. Nolan, who keeps a boarding house on Mitchell street, opposite to the Girls' High school, and is a remarkably handsome brunette, who has just passed her seventeenth birthday. The bride is miserably uneasy over the unaccountable disappearance of her newly in stalled liege lord, but expresses the utmost confidence in his return. No amount of persuasion on the part of friends and relatives can induce her to doubt his faithfulness.

Mrs. Nolan, her mother, is, however, of a very different opinion, and entertains no hopes f ever seeing her son-in-law again.

Several months ago, according to Mrs. Nolan's story, T. C. Nelson, a handso architect, came to Atlanta from New York. He was well up in his profession and found easy and profitable employment. He was engaged on some of the best buildings in Atlanta, and the superior character of his work bears testimony to his skill. When it was decided to replace the old

Second Baptist church on Washington street with a handsome new edifice of worship, Nelson was one of the architects employe to superintend the tearing away of the old building and making designs for the new one.

About this time he saw and admired the and secured board in the home of Mrs. Nolan. He was much smitten with Miss Nolan, and lost no time in divulging his infatuation. He that are the distinguishing features of true

Miss Nolan was not averse to his attentions and after a few weeks' courtship he asked for her heart and hand and his proposal was accepted. On Thursday, December 1st, a marriage ceremony was solemnized, the contracting par-ties being T. C. Nelson and Miss Nolan. Ac-cording to the story Mrs. Nolan was never very much pleased with the match, but her Their married life was a brief one.

night. On Sunday night after the wedding on Thursday, Nelson kissed his young bride a fond goodby, telling her he would return at Monday noon.

Monday noon.

Ten days have passed and not one word has been received from Nelson.

Yesterday Mrs. Nolan sent to police headquarters and requested an interview with a good detective. Detective Looney called in response to the request and Mrs. Nolan related the story as given above, She said she had never had much confidence in her son-in-law, and, if detective skill can do it, she is going to find out who he is, where he is from, and where he is now. She wants the detectives to carry the case to the last point.

Mrs. Nelson, the young wife, was furious at Mrs. Nelson, the young wife, was furious at her mother's action in placing the matter in the hands of the detectives. She has the most implicit confidence in her husband, and, notwithstanding his strange conduct, believes he will turn up all right.

THE METHODIST APPOINTMENTS.

Great Interest Was Manifested in Them Here-How Atlanta Is Affected.

A great deal of interest was felt in Atlanta yesterday over the appointments to be made by the north Georgia conference.

This interest was not confined to the membership of the churches to be supplied, but extended to the churchgoers of the city generally.

The greatest interest was centered in the greatest interest was centered in the First Methodist church, as the rumor of a possible change had been general. Dr. W. D. By this change Atlanta loses Dr. Anderson, who has served the First church very ably, and Rev. M. L. Underwood, who has presided over the fortunes of St. Paul's for four years with great success.

The members of the Merritts avenue church breathed a sigh of genuine relief when they heard that their pastor, Dr. Hopkins, was not to leave them. They had feared he would be sent elsewhere.

Rev. Clement A. Evans was made agent of the Ministers' Aid Association.

The appointments are very satisfactory to Atlantians.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, December 15.—Futures opened quite depressed, especially early months, which gave way eight to nine points, while the late months were four to five points lower; they partially recovered, closing three to five points under the final prices of yesterday. There was almost a panic in the early months at the first call when the lowest prices of the day were made. The extent to which Liverpool broke down in response to our adverse report of yesterday, quite demoralized our bulls and a great deal of "long cotton" was unloaded. Then some of the bears thought it a good time to turn bull, and their operations caused a partial recovery in values without developing much strength. Spot cotton was dull.

It was currently stated in Austell today that a hat had been seen floating upon the Chattahoochee river near Adderhold's ferry. An interesting feature of the story cropped up yesterday. Daniels has always been a hard-working negro, and it was generally known that he had accumulated between three hundred dollars and four hundred dollars. This money he always aversied with him It was money he always carried with him. It was never out of his possession and his wife asserts that it was in his pocket when he was arrested. If Daniels did get away from the officers, as they assert he did, he had enough money to carry him out of the country.

The wires were freely used yesterday by Barry's attorneys inquiring for the governor's whereabouts. Major Warren replied in the afternoon that he was at Biakely, but before a message could have reached him there he would be on his way to Cuthbert, twenty-five miles distant, to take the train for Macon.

This was a difficulty not calculated upon by the attorneys, but they decided that they would meet him in Macon today. But they may not see him there, and the cause of it will be the excessive rains of yesterday. After finishing his speech at Blakely yesterday it was the governor's intention of going through the country to Cuthbert, to take the Macon train, but it is thought that he did not do so.

"If it rained there as much as it did here," said Captain Bradwell, "he could not possibly make the trip over the country roads, and across the water courses. Many telegrams were sent today by the world's fair committee inquiring if he would be there, but nothing can be heard."

It may be that if the petition for mercy for John Barry could be presented to the governor, his neck would be saved.

Although the crime for which Barry is con victed is a heinous one, the petition for the commutation of his sentence is very strong. It is signed by a large number of the citizens of Henry county, and even by Miss Dunn, the young lady whom he ravished. The grounds upon which the commutation is asked is that there is some doubt about the identity of the negro. He stoutly avers his innocence, and declares he knows nothing of the fiendish

Showing the Work Done by Atlanta

Showing the Work Done by Atlanta
Towards Paving the Streets in 1891.
Captain R. M. Clayton, the city engineer, has prepared his annual report of the street paving done in Atlanta during the year past. It reaches up to January 1st, making allowance for what shall be completed within that time.

The report shows that seven miles of street paving had been laid with granite block, at a total cost of $172,350.68.
But this burden, of course, has been fdistributed. The city pays one-third of the whole amount, or $57,450.22 from the general tax; the street car lines were responsible for nine feet of the paving where they had tracks, or $25,640.59 and the property holders pay the rest, $81,090.81. The latter's debt can never be over two-thirds of the cost, and in case of there being a car line is, of course, much less.

Captain Clayton's report gives some inter-debt can never be over two-thirds of the cost, and in case of there being a car line is, of course, much less.

Captain Clayton's report gives some interesting facts. The street receiving the greatest expenditure was Pryor, from Georgia avenue to the city limits, a length of 3,584 feet, which cost $19,019.22. But Magnolia street from Marietta to Vine street, a distance of 3,885 feet, cost only $13,468.26 as it is somewhat narrower than Pryor street.

The next street on the list, conspicuous for the work done and its cost, is Loyd, it having been paved from Hunter to Rawson, a distance of 26,006 feet, at a cost of $14,517.32. Of those streets receiving attention during this year Thompson street got the least improvements. It was paved for 150 feet, from Peters to Garnett street, which cost $322.17.

The most expensive paving was done on Church street, it being forty feet wide between the curbs and without a railroad to divide the expense. The least expense was borne by the property owners of Woodward avenue from Washington street to Capitol avenue. It cost only 594 cents per front foot here as the street is but twelve feet wide and it has a car line.

These figures show that more mileage was laid in pavement than any year hitherto. The work of 1888 comes next to this year's with 6.35 miles. Last year but 4.8 miles were laid, it having cost $149,254.74.

Work on three other streets has been authorized by the council, but it will not be more than a third completed by January 1st. This will be an addition to the figures already given. Simpson street between Marietta and Lambert streets will be paved a length of 2,365 feet and this will be first completed. Then Georgia avenue will be paved a length of 2,365 feet and this will be first completed. Then Georgia avenue will be paved and on the streets of Atlanta. This, too, is done on the streets of Atlanta. This, too, is Peachtree.

This shows what an extensive work is being done on the streets of Atlanta. This, too, is altogether exclusive of the tearing up and relaying of the blocks by the street car lines for their own improvements.

After all, the best way to know the real merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, is to try it yourself. Be sure to get Hood's.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, December 15.—The stock market today was still only moderately active, and for the amoun of business done, exhibited less feature than for any day; for some time. The strength, however, remained unimpaired throughout the session, and, while adday, for some time. The strength, however, remained unimpaired throughout the seasion, and, while advances are not marked, except in one or two cases, they are general and uniform. Vanderbilts, Grangers and Specialties monopolized the marked movements, while the general list moved slowly and quietly throughout the day. The strong point in the list today was Chicago Gas, which was not only most active, but secred a most important gain of the day. Buying was largely for long account, and while traders were inclined to take profits on advances, the demand was most urgent and the advance rapid, especially during the forenoon. The market, on the whole, opened strong, and remianed so throughout the day, while making no great progress toward higher figures, and the dealings, as a rule, remained barren of feature. The close was quiet but firm to strong, at or about the highest prices of the day. Almost all active stocks are fractionally higher, but Chicago Gas is up 1½ per cent and Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western preferred 1½. Sales listed aggregated 226,000 shares; unlisted 6,000.

NEW YORK. December 15.—The market opened steady and as prices advanced Europe sold about 7,000 of different stocks. The feature of today's market was the strength of Chicago Gas and Union Pacific. The former was advanced on the assurances that the earnings were steadily increasing and that the present rate of dividend was sure to be maintained. Union Pacific was strong with the report that the present congress will deal leniently with this road and that a favorable settlement would be effected. The Vanderbilts were strong under the lead of New York Central, as it was confidently predicted that an extra dividend of 2 per By Private Wire to Youngblood & Haas. confidently predicted that an extra dividend of 2 per cent would be declared, making a total of. 6 per cent for the year. The clearances were again very large, aggregating 1,100,000 wheat and wheat flour. The lower grades and sample lots of wheat were in better demand, prices firmer; with the present rate of clearances another decrease in the visible supply is quite probable. last year and 73,000 bales last week. This tells the story of the market, and the wonder is that prices show the resistance they do and decline as slowly as they have, in view of the daily increasing weight of the supply. The Liverpool market, in response to our decline of yesterday, opened easier and 5-54d lower, but before the close showed a slight disposition to recover, the final prices being 4-54d below last evening. Spots are reported as pressed for sale, but spinners seem alive to the opportunity of present prices, and after the official closing of the market, cables say, had bought an additional 2,000 bales. Our market declined about 10 points under a liquidation that has been quite general, especially in January, but a fresh buying degeneral, especially in January, but a fresh buying de-Baltrinores of the superior about 10 points under a liquidation that has been quite general, especially in January, but a fresh buying demand was attracted, and half of the decline had been recovered by 2 o'clock. Estimates of receipts tomorrow are somewhat lighter but the effort to anticipate the movement is nearly abandoned. Predictions are valueless, and some corroboration of the short crop advices in the actual deliveries of cotton must be seen before the faith of a large and much discouraged bull contingent shall be rehabilitated. After 2 o'clock the market continued steady, improving a point artwo more. The liquidation of the past two days appears to have dislodged most of the weak cotton and redistributed the interest among those who are believers at least in the temporary reaction, if not a permanent improvement. The outside interest in January is unquestionably now whittled down to such proportions that it has ceased to be a menace to the position, and we doubt if the difference, as compared with the discense. NEW YOlk, December 15—With the weakness here yesterday it was naturally expected that Liverpool would be materially influenced, and there was no disappointment on this score; in fact, our friends cable that that market showed a semi-panieky feeling owing to the reports from this side, coupled with another estimate of Mr. Neil, speaking of the present as 8,400,000 as minimum. Later in the day a better feeling prevailed there in response to a very steady opening in this market, values in the main being but 6@7 points under last night's close, which all considered was not NEW YORK, December 15- Coffee, options closes under last night's close, which all considered was not such a depression as might have been-anticipated. There is nothing fresh in the way of news or developments. It is a reflection of the weeks gone by—the constantly and disappointing large receipts, the aggregate of same today being little less than stupendous, and it seems almost incredible where so much cotton can come from, in the light of what the south persists in telling us. We cannot, as far as we are concerned, make up our minds to anything now where we have been astray by reason of the information which has reached us constantly from the cotton sections. We hardly know what to accept in the premises, and simply wait and look on for further developments. NO WORK FOR THEM.

The Central Railroad Discharges Ninety-Four Employes.

A GLOOMY PROSPECT FOR THE HOLIDAYS

For the Men Who Find Themselves Out of Work-What the Officials Have to Say.

Macon, Ga., December 15 .- [Special.]-There is consternation at the shops of the Cen tral railroad in this city today. Ninety-eight men have been suspended, embracing fortyfour in the car department and fifty-four machinists and blacksmiths. This is certainly a very unpleasant Christmas and New Year remembrance. Superintendent Curran, of the Southwestern railroad, says the suspension may not last more than sixty days but of this he can give no positive assurance. He says the suspension is due to the fact that there is no work at the shop for the men to do, and that it will not pay the road to retain the employes longer at the present time. The work at the yards is said to be completely up, and the absence of the men will not cause any inconvenience to the road. Gatekeeper amons and Night-Watchman McKenny at the passenger depot have also been sus-pended. It is understood that the suspension of employes will be general all along the line.

Payday Not Regular. Until recently the Central road was never known to be behind in paying its employes. It always had a fixed date and never failed to known to be behind in paying its employes. It always had a fixed date and never failed to meet it. This fine record has been broken of late, and the employes are anxiously waiting to see if the pay train will come with their November salary before the 20th instant. The boys want their money in time for the Christmas holiddys. The report reaches Macon that the mechanics employed in the Central shops at Savannah have been much dissatisfied of late at the Central's delay in paying them. The Press, of that city, has been giving the matter attention, and says:

"On Saturday afternoon, as they had not yet received their money for November, a meeting was heid and a committee of six, composed of two machinists, two carpenters, and two painters, was appointed to visit the master mechanic and see if any information could be obtained from him. He could give the men no satisfaction, and the committee visited the office of the general superintendent. There, it is understood, they were told that they would be paid off in checks not later than the 10th, and that any bank in the city would cash the checks without discount. With this understanding the men retired somewhat better satisfied. Rumors were current Saturday night and Sunday morning that the men intended striking. This proyess to be untrue.

ter satisfied. Rumors were current Saturday night and Sunday morning that the men intended striking. This proves to be untrue. A Press reporter saw Master Mechanic Antz Monday morning and asked him if there was any truth in the report about a probable strike. "No," was the reply, "there is not. I heard the rumor was being circulated, and I traced it to a few malcontents who have been trying to make the men dissatistied.
"The matter has been satisfactorily arranged, and the men are all at work now. There is no probability of a strike, for, in my opinion, the men are glad to continue at work. Their pay is perhaps more secure than their

SAVANNAH, Ga., December 15.—[Special.]— The officers of the Richmond and Danville railroad have issued orders to reduce the force of employes in the shops. The force has been neut down twenty-five per cent.

Nearly one hundred men have been discharged. This means a reduction of some $4,500 on the monthly pay roll. This act has aroused much bitterness, and the railway authorities are censured by the community.

DISEASE!

A Few Facts For the Doubting! WILL YOU STOP TO READ THIS?

"UNCLE REMUS" SAYS:

Several years ago I was suffering from KIDNEY COMPLAINT and GENERAL DEBILITY. I lost flesh constantly, at the rate of a pound a week. After treatment by my family physician, which failed altogether, and after dosing myself with tarious patent medicines. I concluded to go to Lithia Springs. The place was undeveloped then, but I drank the Water and sat under the shade of the trees, and recovered my health fully. I weighed 108 pounds when I went to the Springs, and now I weigh 108. I think there is no case of DYSPEPSIA or KIDNEY ALLMENT that this Water will not cure. I have sent hundreds of my friends to Lithia Springs, and they have all been materially benefited.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS.

COL. JOHN F. HUDSON, of Moore, Marsh & Co., Atlanta, says: "I have been troubled for 12 years with loss of appetite and rest, difficulty in urinating, highcolored, scanty discharge, accompanied by distressing pains in the region of the bladder. Upon the advice of my physician, I began the use of BOWDEN LITHIA WATER, and very soon thereafter passed CALCULI in great quantity, with corresponding relief. This continued for several weeks, followed by the passage from the Bladder of a CALCUSUS*, five-eighths of an inch in length by threeeighths of an inch in diameter, weighing TWELVE GRAINS. Relief was immediate and permanent.
My health is now better than for fifteen years past, and to BOWDEN LITHIA WATER I ascribe all the credit, as I used no other form of medication."

"This Calculus is in possession of our Company. It is what is known as a true Mulberry Calculus, composed of Oxalate of Lime and Uric Acid.

MR. H. P. WRIGHT, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, of Atlanta, says: "Two years ago I was reduced to 151 pounds by Kidney Troubles, complicated with Dyspepsia. After using BOWDEN LITHIA WATER for eight weeks, my Kidney Trouble entirely disappeared, my appetite returned, my digestion was perfect, and has ever since remained so, and today my weight is over 200 pounds. It may sound strange, but I used no other means for relief than this Water, and it is justly entitled to all the credit for my happy recovery."

MR. JAMES M. FLEMING, Merchandise Broker, 137½ Bay Street, Savannah, says:

"I had been, for a considerable time, troubled with Kidney Disease, of an aggravated form, and this was complicated with other disorders of the system, notable Dysepsia and Malaria, with an occasional Dysenteric attack. My family physician, 1.r. M. L. Boyd, advised the BOWDEN LITHIA WATER, the use of which for a few weeks was followed by prompt relief from all my troubles mentioned above. I am firmly convinced of its wonderful efficiency, and shall continue its use on account of its wonderful purity and tonic properties."

THEN, DOCTORS REALLY PRESCRIBE IT? DO THEY, INDEED?

"I drank the BOWDEN LITHIA WATER for RENAL CALCULI. I suffered ten days from Renal Colle, and passed several CALCULI, accompanied by a gritty deposit. My urine was bloody. This state of things continued, in spite of all remedies used, until I began the use of BOWDEN LITHIA WATER, after drinking freely of which for 24 hours the CALCULI ceased passing, owing to the action of the Water dissolving it, and the sandy, gritty deposit was removed. Urine became clear and abundant, and has since remained so."

DIDN'T KNOW DOCTORS USED IT! WELL, ALL OF THEN DO NOT, AS YET, MORE'S THE PITY!
BUT THEY ARE RAPIDLY BECOMING ITS FIRM FRIENDS. WE WILL TELL YOU ABOUT IT LATER.
WATCH THIS SPACE! IT WILL BE A REGULAR HEALTH DEPARTMENT!

We propose to tell you about its Wonderful Properties, and why it is always used (or should be) in that awful scourge of humanity, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, and in CATARRH of BLADDER (never known to fail); all forms of DIABETES, from which thousands suffer and die annually; CYSTITIS, which makes life a burden; GOUT, which comes from high living; CATARRH of STOMACH and DYSPEPSIA, (no one too poor to have them); all forms of RHEUMATISM, which deforms so many; DISORDERS INCIDENT TO DELICATE LADIES, A Sovereign Remedy.

What Was Done Yesterday in the Three Tribunals.

A CASE BEFORE ORDINARY CALHOUN.

The Divorce Mill Stops Grinding-Railway Lawyers File Jurisdiction Papers.
Judge Van Epps Fines Two Lawyers.

Vesterday morning Messrs, Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, counsel of the East Tennes-see, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company, filed a number of "pleas of jurisdiction" in th office of the clerk of the superior court.

The pleas are in the cases in which the following persons are the plaintiffs: A. J. Noves, Lacy Ashley, Emma Gilbert, R. K. Gilbert Matt Wilson, John A. Stinson, A. V. Sluder and John S. Brooks.

These plaintiffs sue for heavy damages for personal injuries. They were injured in accidents happening in various places along the line of the road in other counties than Fulton. The object of these pleas is to change the venue

For a long time past nearly all cases against the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway have been tried in Atlanta. Within the past thirty days the company, as defendant in big damage suits, has gained verdicts which saved nearly fifty thousand dollars. These cases have all been managed by Messrs. Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, and their unbroken success has been the talk of the bar.

Fined for Talking.

Mr. Thod Hammond and Mr. Robert J. Jordan, two well-known lawyers, were engaged in a somewhat suppressed, yet animated, conversation in the city courtroom while a case was in progress.

Judge Van Epps said he disliked to fine any members of the bar for talking in his court and disturbing him, yet he must make an example, and he said to Dr. Holliday:

"Let Mr. Hammond and Mr. Jordan each be fined $1."

e fined $1." Mr. Hammond's hand went down suddenly

Mr. Hammond's nand went down suddensy in his pantaloons pocket, and out came a brand-new shiny silver dollar.

Mr. Jordan happened not to have anything less than a twenty-dollar bill, so he stood the clerk off, saying: "I'll fix that later."

This amusing occurrence provoked a good deal of merriment at the lawyers' expense. To Condemn Land.

Ordinary Calhoun will this morning hear a railway matter of considerable importance. The Georgia, Carolina and Northern railway wants to condemn certain property controlled by the Georgia railroad. The land starts at Colonel W. H. Hulsey's residence and runs as far as Grant street. The Georgia railroad objects to this, and will fight it befor Judge Calhoun. The case was set for a hearing yes-terday, but at Judge Hillyer's request was postponed till today.

Before Judge Van Epps.
In the first division of the city court of Atlanta, Judge Howard Van Epps presiding, a great many cases were disposed of yesterday.

the plantiff for $372.35 principal, $30.25 interest, and costs.

The case of Lamar Jones vs. the city of Atlanta, which was on trial Monday, was concluded, the jury returning a verdict for the plaintiff for $300.

In the case of Kierbow vs. the Western Lyton Talegraph Company, which were a supplied to the plaintiff of $300.

In the case of Kierbow vs. the Western Union Telegraph Company, which was an action for the statutory penalty for not delivering a message promptly, the court held that no recovery could be had unless the sender of the dispatch paid or tendered the charges in advance, and that the statute did not apply to messages sent "collect." This important decision materially restricts the operation of the statute. The case was accordingly dismissed on demurrer.

The case of Theodore F. Abbott and his minor son against the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, being an action for damages with the son, was taken up. One of sustained by the son, was taken up. One of the dummies frightened a horse behind which were riding in a buggy the two plaintiffs, who were thrown out and injured. The case was barely started before the hour of adjournment came, and it will be resumed this morning. The Divorce Mill.

Petition for a Charter.

Messrs. Dorsey, Brewster & Howell yesterday filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court a petition for a charter for the "International Tourist Company." The incorporators are: T. H. Blacknall, John C. Courtney, Charles Handy, John Y. Rankin and their associates. The objects of the company as outlined in the petition are the procuring of transportation for individuals and clubs and excursion parties either by rail or water and the supplying of board and lodging for the tourists. The company wants to have the privilege to deal in land and to own or lease property. The capital stock is $10,000 in thares of $100 each.

Winters, John M. McCandless, H. V. and A. M. Dobbs, W. M. McKenzie, W. H. Warren and J. C. Clark. The capital stock is $30,000, in shares of $100. The object is to do a general business in manufacturing and selling phosphates of high grade.

Only Three More Days.

Tax Collector Andy Stewart yesterday receipted for nearly twenty-three thousand dollars, which he received from taxpayers. His office was filled with people all day long, and everybody seemed eager to pay his money over the counter. Mr. Stewart was assisted by half a dozen clerks. There are only three more days in which taxpayers can pay without costs and penalties. Within the next three days it is expected that at least $75,000 will be taken in About one hundred and fity-five thousand hollars has thus far been collected.

A Bright Young Man Defends Himself Suc Atlanta has a young man about sixteen years old, named Paul Bradbury, who will be a great lawyer some day if he decides to abandon chair-making and will apply himself to the study of the law.
